The screenshot shows a web browser window displaying the Connecticut eRegulations System homepage. The browser's address bar shows the URL <https://eregulations.ct.gov/eRegsPortal/>. The page features a header with the Connecticut state seal, the name of the Connecticut Secretary of the State, Denise W. Merrill, and the eRegulations System logo. A navigation menu includes links for Home, Search, Browse, and Information. The main content area is titled "Welcome to the eRegulations System: Portal to Connecticut Regulations" and contains a search interface. The search interface has two input fields: "Search By Keyword" with the text "Water filter" and a "Search" button, and "Retrieve Exact Section Number" with the text "21a-147-1" and a "Go" button. There is also an "Advanced Search" button. Below the search area are three sidebars: "Quick Links" with a list of links including "Open for Comment", "Regulations in Progress", and "Department of Social Services"; "Upcoming Public Hearings" which displays "No upcoming public hearings found."; and "Help Links" with links for "How to use this site", "Regulations Process 101", and "Glossary of Terms". At the bottom of the page, there are sections for "eReg Alerts" and "Emergency Regulations". The footer contains copyright information and links for Privacy, Disclaimer, Secretary of the State Home, CT.gov Home, and Contact Us.

Comment through the System

- You may comment through traditional means or the eRegulations system.
 - We will upload traditionally submitted comments into the system.
 - You are able attach a document(s) to a submitted comment form.
- Agencies have the choice to make comments available for viewing in the system.
 - If not published in the system, comments must be included in the comment-and-response document (aka, the hearing report).

The screenshot shows a web-based "Comment Submission Form" for a proposed regulation. At the top, there are navigation tabs for "Home", "Search", "Browse", and "Information". The form title is "Comment Submission Form" and it specifies the regulation as "Proposed Regulation Concerning: RCSA 174-22a-38" with tracking number "PR2015-192". A link is provided for users who already have an account. A "Please note" section explains that the agency will review comments and that certain content may be excluded. Instructions for submitting comments are provided, including a link to "create a new account". The form is divided into three main sections: "Information", "Comment", and "Attachments".
