Executive Summary

- July was the fifth consecutive month in which the state’s prison population declined. On July 1, 2008 the CT DOC reported the total prison population at 19,413, a decrease of 0.6% from the June 1, 2008 figure.
- A year earlier, on July 1, 2007, 18,892 people were incarcerated at DOC facilities. By February 1, 2008, that figure had risen to 19,894, a 5.3% increase. Since the February peak, the prison population has subsided by 2.6%. (See Chart 5A)
- New admissions to DOC facilities fell from 2,816 to 2,708, 3.8%, between May and June. Although the number of unsentenced inmates rose, from 1,994 to 2,054, this increase was offset by declines in the number of inmates receiving new sentences (-13%), inmates returning from community supervision with technical violations (-25%) and a drop in the number of federal admissions (-33%). (See Table 1A and Table 1B.1)
- In June, 194 inmates were readmitted to prison for violating the conditions of their DOC-supervised community release. Technical violations accounted for 64% of these readmissions; 24% of persons who were readmitted were charged with new criminal offenses. (See Table 1B.2)
- During June, 1,002 inmates reached their EOS and are no longer under DOC custody/supervision. During the same month, 663 inmates were released to parole, transitional supervision or half way houses. (See Table 2)
- In June, 225 offenders were granted parole as a result of Administrative Reviews. Effective July 1, 2008, pursuant to P.A. 08-1, the Administrative Review process for granting parole will no longer be available to the Board of Pardons and Parole (BOPP); this may cause a decline in the number of persons released to discretionary parole after July 2008.
- The six-month forecast projects that the prison population will decrease by approximately 3.5% from July 2008 to January 2009, and that the January 2009 prison population will be 18,734 offenders (See page 10 for factors affecting the correctional population forecast)

Six Month Forecast of the Prison Population

(6) Connecticut Prison Population Trends (See CHART 6A)

- From January 1, 1988 through July 1, 2008: The prison population has increased by 180% over the past 20 years

CHART 6A – Connecticut Prison Population
January 1988 to June 2008

Connecticut Prison Population Forecast*

This projection is based on the following facts: (1) the total DOC supervised population has remained stable (2) the unsentenced/accused population has declined, and (3) PA 08-1 has provided funding for additional re-entry/diversionary beds. This projection is also based on: (1) the expectation that transitional supervision placements will increase and (2) that parole supervision placements should return to pre-July 2007 levels. (See CHART 6B)

The six month forecast projects that:

- The prison population will decrease by approximately 3.5% from July 2008 to January 2009
- The January 2009 prison population will be approximately 18,734 offenders

CHART 6B – Actual and Projected Monthly DOC Facility Population
January 2007 to January 2009

* Factors Affecting the Correctional Population Forecast

- Effective July 1, 2008, pursuant to P.A. 08-1, the Administrative Review process for granting parole will no longer be available to the Board of Pardons and Parole (BOPP); this may cause a decline in the number of persons released to discretionary parole after July 2008.
- The request and receipt of "all pertinent information" necessary to complete an offenders file prior to the review process by the BOPP, per P.A. 08-1, continues to be expedited with priority attention from both the Courts Support Services Division and Court Operations of the Judicial Branch; access to, and the confidentiality of, Juvenile and Youthful Offender records remains a critical issue; BOPP hearing scheduling remains problematic based upon the timing of available information and the current caseload backlog.
- The change in the composition of the BOPP, per P.A. 08-1, with 5 full-time and 7 part-time members, is in the process of being fully instituted; training and scheduling issues with regard to the new Board structure, as mandated by P.A. 08-1, may limit the number of persons released to discretionary parole in the short term.

Judicial Branch’s Court Support Services Division

The Court Support Services Division (CSSD) was established within Connecticut’s Judicial Branch, in February 1999. It was formed to respond to the changing needs of judges, attorneys, litigants, defendants, and communities, while providing on-going public safety. William H. Carbone is the Executive Director.

The CSSD combines the resources and expertise of the former: Office of the Bail Commissioner, Family Services Division, Juvenile Detention Services, Office of Juvenile Probation, Office of Adult Probation, and the Office of Alternative Sanctions. The merger created a single entity with staff representation and services in each Judicial District. Judges now have all available pre-trial services, family services, offender sentencing and supervision options for adults and juveniles, as well as juvenile detention services, coordinated through the single CSSD division and managed from a central office.

The main court support functions for adults and juveniles includes: Intake/Assessment/Referral (IAR) - a single, comprehensive pre-trial evaluation and referral process; Supervision - a unit that focuses only on effective supervision of clients involved with the court system; and Administration - an alternative sanctions continuum of treatment and support services for pre-trial and sentenced adults and juveniles purchased under contract by CSSD with community based providers comprising a statewide network that serves each judicial district. The CSSD also incorporates Family Civil Services and Family Criminal Court Services.

For more information on CSSD please visit their web site at www.jud.ct.gov/CSSD.

Department of Correction (DOC)

The Commissioner of the Department of Correction, Theresa C. Lantz, by direction of the courts, confines and controls approximately 18,600 accused and sentenced offenders in 14 correctional institutions, 4 correctional centers and various units; and by statute administers medical, mental health, rehabilitative, and community based service programs. DOC mission is to protect the public and staff while ensuring the secure, safe and humane supervision of offenders with opportunities that support successful community reintegration. The DOC’s Division of Parole and Community Services represents the consolidated community supervision and enforcement functions of the Department of Correction and the Board of Pardons and Paroles, which were combined in the fall of 2004 at the direction of the General Assembly.

For more information on the Department of Correction please visit their web site at www.ct.gov/doc.

Board of Pardons and Paroles (BOPP)

The Connecticut Board of Pardons and Paroles, under the direction of Robert Farr, Chairman, is committed to protecting the public by making responsible panel and staff decisions regarding when and under what circumstances eligible persons may be granted a Pardon or Parole. BOPP is an autonomous panel with administrative support provided by the Department of Correction. The Board possesses discretionary authority to grant pardons for criminal convictions and to place appropriate offenders in the community under parole supervision as a means of supporting their successful reintegration into law abiding society. A full-time Victim Services Coordinator is responsible for assisting those victims of crimes who choose to participate in the decision-making processes of the Board.

For more information on the Board of Pardons and Paroles please visit the DOC web site at www.ct.gov/doc and click on “Board of Pardons and Paroles.”
