SUBJECT: Visiting International Teacher Permits (Public Act No. 07-30)

During the 2007 session of the Connecticut General Assembly, a new law was enacted regarding visiting international teacher permits that allows teachers from other countries with which the Connecticut State Department of Education (Department) has an agreement to become permitted to teach in Connecticut public schools. The law also covers visiting international teachers participating in programs under the United States Department of State Teacher Exchange Branch, which includes the Fulbright Program and the Teachers of Critical Languages Program. The teachers who are granted this permit are considered "highly qualified" under the regulations of "No Child Left Behind."

This temporary permit is issued for one year and renewable twice upon district request. It coincides with the teacher's J-1 visa issued under the United States Department of State's Exchange Visitor Program. Teachers must have the equivalent of a bachelor's degree, meet the teaching credential requirements for their home country and achieve a level of oral proficiency in English as approved by the Commissioner of Education.

Under current Department agreements, teachers are coming from India to teach mathematics and sciences and volunteer teachers are coming from China to teach Mandarin. We expect to initiate a new volunteer teacher program for teachers coming from Italy to teach Italian. The teachers from India are hired under local contract. The volunteer teacher programs generally require the districts to provide room, board, transportation to and from school and health insurance. Many of these teachers are hosted in families. For more information, please contact Dr. Mary Ann Hansen, state world language consultant, by phone at (860) 713-6753 or by e-mail at mary\_ann.hansen@ct.gov. The application deadline for requesting teachers from these programs begins in February for the following school year.

International teachers who do not come under the Department's programs or the United States Department of State Teacher Exchange Branch programs must meet all requirements for Connecticut certification. They are not eligible for the Visiting International Teacher Permit.
